

CECOG PANCREAS CANCER ACADEMY

LANGUAGE: ENGLISH

NOVEMBER 29-30, 2019
NH HOTEL AIRPORT
VIENNA

REGISTRATION:
Invitation Only

Teaching Objectives:

1. Basics in biology, molecular biology and pathology of pancreas cancers
2. Results of translational research applied into the clinic for patients with pancreas cancers
3. The importance of interdisciplinary care including surgery, radiotherapy and medical oncology in pancreas cancer

4. The importance of inter-professional care for patients with pancreas cancer
5. Newest treatment options for pancreatic cancers including chemotherapy and molecular targeted drugs in pancreas cancer
6. Drugs on the horizon and upcoming treatment options

7. Psychological support in pancreas cancers
8. Palliative care of patients with pancreas cancer
9. The importance of patient advocacy and the involvement of patient advocacy groups in the development of appropriate care of patients with pancreas cancer